MAN COMPELS

Fifteen-Year-Old Katie Maloney Tells Magistrate That Her Friend Threatened to Blow Off the Top of Her Head.

FOR FEAR OF HER SOUL SHE ROBBED A NEIGHBOR.

"I Just Had to Do It," She Says -Gives Wedding Ring to Alleged Accomplice and Keeps Diamond for Herself.

Katle Maloney, of No. 19 Mangin atreet, whose fifteen years have crowded in twice as much experience on the east side as comes to two ordinary girls of the same age, made Magistrate man gasp with wonder in the Essex Market Court to-day when Katle was arraigned on a charge of burglary supposed to have been committed after a threat that her head would leave her in pieces unless she obeyed the orders of Thomas Coumisky, well known in Sing Sing. Katle is about the coolest young girl who has appeared in the Essex Court for some time.

The charge against her was for break ing into the apartment of Mrs. Healy, who lives in the same tenement as the Maloneys. A diamond ring, a wedding ring and a suit of clothes were taken from the Healey flat and suspicion fastened on Katie. The case was reported to the police and Katle and her two "gentlemen friends," Thomas Coumisky and Thomas Barrett, were arrested.

Katle Likes to Talk Slang.

Katle has a rather thin and sharp face and swaggers her shoulders as it to the manner born. For sang froid she would get a medal anywhere. Her gestures made a rich accompaniment to her slang speech. Everything was in keeping. Katle is a harmony of her own

"It was just die way, Judge," sajii Katle. "I had to do it. Dere wasn't not'ing left fer me to do but dat. Why, he sez to me, and when he sez it yer fust got ter sit up and take notice You go and get it. And if yer don't, why I'll blow de top of yer block eft."

police arrested as an accomplice. Katie likes the slang and the talk of the streets and refuses to use any other. Coumisky was in court when she told her story and he looked as if he would like to shoot Katle's head off for fair Continuing Katle said, with a wrist gesture, her right hand kept very stiff:

She Simply Had to Do It. "As I said before, he comes to me and tells me I got to do the job or off'll go me head. So I got out and spotted the Healy house for three days. De fear of me soul was in me, but what's de use I had to do it and so I sets about it and spots. I tell you, it's no easy t'ing to put aside de fear of yer soul when a man's at yer for a week to go and do it. Now is it?"

As there was no answer Katle went ling silver trimmed. on with her story. She told how she crawled out on the fire-escape to the Healy apartment, got in at the window and went to the dresser in Mr. Realy's room, where she found the rings and clothes. The hau! amounted to $39 all out of the window to the fire-escape and Lordes Taylor, through her own apartment to the hair. She joined Coumisky on the street.

"I found 'im on de corner a-pickin' his teet," " she said. "I goes right up to him and sez: "Here it is, now, and I hands him de weddin' ring, thinking !! might lead him to a better life. He also got de suit of clothes. De diamond 1

She Hides Diamoud Ring. "De diamond was a sparkler from 'way back. I hides dat under de carpet in me room and Coum knows nothin' about it. Well, I guess dat's all dere's to it. I kin tell it over again, if yer likes me style. Now it's fer you to much to say. He sent Katle to the Children's Court and held Coumiskey Barrett he let go because that gentleman was only in the company of Coumiskey and they had nothing against him. Katte was arrested twice before, she confessed. The police knew where to find her and they thought the burglary had the marks of Katie's lithe fingers imprinted on it. When they let her go Katie was inclined to be contemptuous and sneerful, but the very next day she was rearrested, and then she felt the "fear of God" and just "peached."

Katie's eyes are blue, but they have a cunning that the small peaked hat and the white lacket and the single black curl which hung over her shoulder helped to accentuate.
